Bandits Stage Hold-Up At The White Fence Farm

Three heavily armed bandits who had sought to open two safes at the White Fence Farm restaurant on Joliet Rd. (formerly Alternate 66) finally fled empty handed minutes before state troopers and Will County police arrived. The hold-up took place early Monday morning.

Robert J. Hastert, owner of the White Fence Farm which is known and patronized by many area residents, had stayed on Sunday night after other employees had left, other than the night watchman. Hastert finished his chores and left the place about 12:30 Labor Day morning. As he stepped out he was seized by three men.

Two of them carried sawed-off shotguns and the other had an M-1 carbine. They forced Hastert to go back into the restaurant. When the night watchman, Franz Kohler, of Joliet, came to investigate the noise he was seized and locked in a walk-in cooler in the kitchen.

Taking Hastert into the office the bandits ordered him to open a safe. When he hesitated his captors struck him several times in the face and on the head. He finally worked the combination but that didn't help the bandits as two keys also were needed to open the safe and Hastert had only one in his possession.

The bandits then attempted to strip the back from one of the safes but were unsuccessful. They then loaded one in a truck that belongs to White Fence Farm and is used in delivering chicken to some carry-out branches the firm operates. Instead of driving off, however, the bandits kept working away at the other safe.

About 2:45 o'clock the telephone rang. One of the hold-up crew told Hastert to answer it and if asked if he was in any trouble to answer everything was all right. The call was from Hastert's wife. She wanted to know why he was so late and if there was any trouble. He told her everything was fine. Her intuition told her otherwise and Mrs. Hastert called state and Will county police.

Shortly after the phone call the bandits apparently became afraid an alarm had been turned in and they fled in a car that had been stolen Sunday night. Apparently they decided that driving a White Fence Farm truck at that hour of night would mark them so they left the vehicle and safe behind.

Later Monday morning state police found the getaway car along Joliet Rd. about three miles north of White Fence Farm, near I-55. The trio inside the place had a walkie-talkie thru which they apparently communicated with a fourth confederate who remained outside as the "wheelman" or getaway car driver.

Hastert was taken to St. Joseph hospital for treatment of his head and face injuries and then returned home.

Board Cites Needs Of New Classrooms For District 122

Enrollment projections at New Lenox show the need of a minimum of six additional classrooms for the public grade school system by September, 1968, according to a spokesman for the board of education.

To meet this need the board is seeking approval of a bond issue at a special referendum Sept. 23. The bond issue is for $575,000 and would provide for a 14-classroom addition to Haines School, plus a central library and a small administrative area.

Approval of the issue, it was said, would provide reasonable assurance that enough new construction would be completed a year from now to provide for 1,800 pupils.

The enrollment this year in the seven schools of the district is approaching the 1,700 mark so an 1,800 enrollment in the 1968 - 69 school year is considered conservative by school people.

Supt. Arnold Tyler reports that all existing playrooms in the seven schools of the system are not only in full use but some of them are overloaded. Should the district not be empowered to start the building program, a spokesman said, it will be in difficulty next year in that it will have classes and no place to put them.

Haven School in New Lenox will serve as the polling place in the bond referendum. Voting hours will be from 12 noon to 7 p.m.

hints for Homeowners

BY: RICHARD De LANO
COOK COUNTY ASSISTANT
FARM ADVISER IN ORNAMENTAL
HORTICULTURE
AND FLORICULTURE

Every summer many fine old shade trees are struck by lightning. When this occurs the homeowner is usually uncertain as to what is the best treatment that will aid or insure recovery.

If the bark is completely exploded from the tree or the trunk shattered about all one can do is remove and replace. However, the usual damage from a lightning strike is confined to a narrow strip of bark that may be only a few feet long. In other instances the torn strip may extend from top to ground. This bark tearing is caused by an electrical conducting layer of moisture being converted to instant steam by the heat of the passing high voltage electricity. The underlying growth or cambium layer is also cooked and killed.

When much of the cambium layer and inner layer of tissues are killed, the tree will usually die over a period of a few months to a year. Usually some leaf wilting occurs and then more and more branches die. Occasionally all the leaves wilt and die within a few weeks. The extent of injury that is visible on the bark does not necessarily reflect the amount of damage that has occurred internally.

Because of the uncertainty of the after effects of lightning injury, initial treatment of an injured tree should be confined to removal of broken, dangerous branches. Then if the tree shows progressive deterioration within two or three months, more extensive treatment should be considered. Loose bark along the edges of the wound should be trimmed back to sound tissue, splintered wood smoothed, and the exposed surface treated with a tree paint.

If the tree has not been fertilized within the last three years it will benefit from an application at this time. Use a lawn type fertilizer that does not contain a weed killer or fungicide. Place it in holes about a foot deep and a foot apart throughout the area under the tree canopy. Labor saving power augers can be rented for this purpose. Effects of the fertilizer will show the next growing season in a rapid growth of the healing callous tissue that covers all tree wounds.

Many tree companies also offer a lightning protection service. This is done by installing large conductor cables in a fashion similar to that used to provide lightning protection for homes.

E.H. Shomo To Become President Of Field Communications Corp.

E. H. Shomo will become president of Field Communications Corporation and chief executive officer of television station WFLD on Oct. 2. He has been vice president of CBS Radio and general manager of WBBM since 1959.

The announcement was made this week by Bailey K. Howard, president of Field Enterprises, Inc., the parent company of Field Communications Corporation.

"Ernie Shomo is a veteran of 31 years in broadcasting," Howard said. "His performance at CBS in Chicago has attracted national recognition and many of his innovations have been initiated throughout the country. WFLD promises to be an exciting station under his leadership."

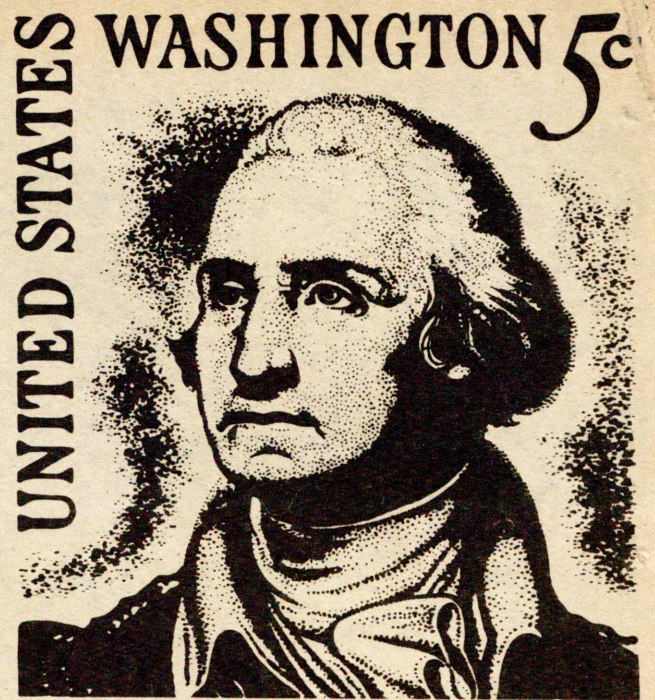

Shomo said, "UHF is a fantastic challenge. There is a big place for it in the viewing spectrum which no one has found yet. My new association with Field Communications Corporation and WFLD provides a stimulating opportunity in a highly creative area."

Shomo succeeds Sterling C. Quinlan who submitted his resignation Aug. 11.

Sam Cook Digges, executive vice president of CBS Radio, said, "We extend, for all his friends and associates at CBS Radio, our warm best wishes to Ernie Shomo on his challenging new position."

Digges announced that William C. O'Donnell, manager of the St. Louis office, CBS Radio Spot Sales, will replace Shomo as vice president, CBS Radio, and general manager of WBBM Radio.

GETS FACE-LIFTING job. This Washington stamp to be issued Nov. 17, has been especially designed to offset the criticism received by the post office department about the Washington stamp which went on sale in February, 1966. The harsh highlights and shadow areas will be softened. Critics of the February 1966 stamp complained that the First President needed a shave, the services of a dermatologist to remove what appeared to be a flock of warts, and that he looked like a sour, disagreeable old man with denture trouble. In most minds the portrait on the dollar bill is the real George Washington. It is taken from the Gilbert Stuart portrait. The current Washington stamp is based on a portrait by Rembrandt Peale. Stevan Dohanos, who has done many magazine covers, has been hired for the face lifting chore.

NO SPLASH--at least there wasn't as long as the photographer waited ready to pull the trigger if either of the two teenage girls inside the cage were dropped into a tank of water. The seats on which they perch will drop if a person hurling baseballs can hit the middle of what looks like a bear trap. While the photographer waited a lot of balls were thrown but the throwers lacked control and nary a one collected whatever the prize was. One of the attendants at the pitch, at the right rear with the apron on--was Robert Dean, a member of the Frankfort village board. (Graphic Newspapers photo)

Speaks On Pond Management

George Zebrun, State Fish biologist, will speak on "Pond Management" at a meeting being sponsored by the Will-South Cook Soil and Water Conservation District, at 1:30 p.m. Saturday, Sept. 9. It will be held at the A.J. Brader farm on Harlem Ave., four miles south of Route 30.

Zebrun's subject will cover fish stocking, weed control, animal pest control (muskrats - ground hogs), how to keep fish in balance, control of algae, trapping muskrats, and a demonstration to show fish present in the pond by electric shocking. He will be assisted by Paul Vidal of the Illinois Department of Conservation, and Ray Heintz, conservation inspector.

Allan May of the Soil Conservation Service will speak on building good fish ponds.

Brader has been an outstanding cooperator of the District in wild - life development since 1960. He operates a complete conservation farm of 160 acres. His crops include beans, wheat, oats and hay. The majority of the acreage is in brome grass for wild - life cover. Multiflora rose and food - plantings also offer protection for wild - life. He has built four fish ponds and stocked them. These ponds are built so that the overflow from one feeds into the next pond. All four ponds have to be full before any water runs into the ditch.

Beecher Boy Takes Conservation Course

Ross Allen Wirth, 15 year old farm youth of Washington Township, Route 2 Beecher, attended the conservation workshop at Southern Illinois University in August. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard G. Wirth. The course was made possible by a scholarship provided by the Will-South Cook Soil and Water Conservation District and the Peotone Garden Forum.

Ross reports that classes covered water and air pollution, geology, wild-life and forestry. Lectures were held every night illustrated with movies or slides. A special point made by the Workshop is the fact that the growing population will need more recreation areas.

Ross is a Life Scout in Boy Scouts with 10 merit badges. Attending the conservation workshop enabled him to get the forestry, soil and water and wildlife management merit badges, which will count towards his Eagle award.

Conservation workshops, sponsored by the Division of Conservation Education of the Office of the Superintendent of Public Instruction at Springfield, are held each summer at the five state universities; Illinois State University at Normal, University of Illinois at Urbana, Northern Illinois University at DeKalb, Western Illinois University at Macomb and Southern Illinois University at Carbondale.

Many organizations are eager to sponsor scholarships for boys and girls as a part of their youth activity. These plans may be included now as programs are being arranged for the coming year. For further information contact the Will - South Cook Soil and Water Conservation District, 100 Manhattan Road, Joliet, Illinois. Phone: 723-5078.

THE FLOPPENDORKER

What's a FLOPPENDORKER? This seems to be the question most asked around the town the past few weeks, and what could it be used for. Above is an artist's creation for the rare device, complete with air-driven flacker, a giant nut-cracking bleem, myriad safety devices. How it works and what it's used for is anybody's guess.

The classified department was also a little doubtful as to the results it would bring. Listed below are a few excerpts which came in the mail:

Snitzen-grub with self-starting trupes and fully-welded croke desires to meet your floppen-dorker, object: activity productive of snitzen-dorker numerical amelioration. References exchanged.
Send reply to AMS, Room 710, 401 N. Wabash Avenue, Chicago, Illinois.

I am willing to trade two Klengenflusses with stereophonic free-busses and dual cragnots for your floppendorker. May need some work. I also have a late model free bore Sembler, if you are interested. Must sell IMMEDIATELY, moving to California.

Sincerely yours,
Clyde Cosnoffski
Brookfield, Ill.

Please send me more information on your Floppendorker. I just might be interested in a purple one or possibly one with orange polka dots.
Thank you.

Mrs. G. E. C.
Glen Ellyn, Ill.

I am interested in purchasing your Floppendorker, for immediate sale of $85.00. Please tell me more about this.

The reason why I would like to purchase this, is because I always keep up with the Jones's, and they don't have one, so this time I will be ahead of them. I'd like to see them buy one of these also, which is almost impossible because an opportunity like this does not come along every day.

Will it rust? And if it does, can we paint it after some amount of time?

Please save this for me, and I will be in touch with you, to see how it runs.

Very truly yours,
Mrs. Schnitzenhopper.
Ladies Sewing Circle

Hi,
Saw your ad about the Floppendorker w/power flacker and auto-bleem, (rare indeed!) but cannot afford the 85 zorts, would you trade for an 11 ft. krel w/an inboard 40 horse frobe? like new 1938 model only used in the backyard pool.

Please advice,

L. B.
Tinley Pk., Ill.

I am inquiring about your FLOPPENDORKER. I would like to know the date or the year it was made and the color of it. Also I would like to know the running condition it is in.

I saw your ad in the ORLAND PARK HERALD.

Sincerely yours,
Mike K.

For years I have been searching for a floppendorker, and preferably a green one. The possibility of obtaining one is just delightful . . . particularly one with a power flacker.

The automatic bleem is not really necessary for my particular use and I wondered if you might sell it without this attachment for a slightly reduced price?

If this floppendorker is green and has an adapter so that it can be connected to my boppolopper I would like to purchase it immediately. Please let me know as soon as possible as I am most anxious to have one of these in my possession.

Very truly yours,
Hopelopen Hoputchopins
Naperville, Illinois

One letter came, with postage due, from a long-time "perfesser of floppendorkers" he said floppendorker was spelled "wronge" in the ad. P.S. We paid the postage.

A letter from a man in Naperville asked: "If it has a right threaded and if he could arrange an appointment to view same, signed Joseph L. Floppendorker."

It's hard to tell who had more fun, but the letters are a clue. It also proved the terrific impact of classified ads.

What's the catch? There isn't any. $1639 is the suggested retail price at the port of entry for the VW Sedan. The price includes federal excise tax and import duty. It includes the built-in heater/defroster, windshield washer, electric windshield wipers and dual padded sun visors. It's the price of the real thing; not a stripped-down economy model. What else do you have to pay? The charge for transporting the car from the port of entry. The dealer delivery charge. And local sales tax. There is one optional that makes a lot of sense: the matching leatherette upholstery, for $30.00 extra. Nearly everyone orders it because it eliminates the need for slip covers. And that's it. (Unless, of course, you count the cost of gas and oil it takes you to get here in your present car.) Now at our new location...
